

Hi Astha/Aanya/AA

First I wanna tell you about the reason for making this site cute-astha@github.io. It's not just because I have fallen for you or I wanna propose you( yeh to obvious hi h ) but is to make the sweetest person in the world to smile

Although there is a catch in the above line "I have indeed fallen for you". You are the most amazing person that I have talked to and it all slowly build up to a place where it is today. The more I talked to you the more I realize that you were indeed perfect for me. Everything about you shines with elegance and grace. All the time I spent talking to you seemed mystical and magical as it used to wipe out all my worries and sadness from my day and used to always make my day ,no matter how bad it was to always end on a happy note because of you.

The most beautiful part of this was the special journey we shared. On 29 December you were Astha Maam ,On 15 January you were Astha,30 January ko you were Baby ,5 Feb you were Babes and After that in My heart you were my dream. Now its in your hand to change my dream into the reality.

WILL YOU BE MY GIRLFRIEND?

I know that you would be faced with a lot of dilemma while answering the above and the distance would be a really big concern. But there is one thing that I realized that Although the distance between Delhi to Bombay is 1409Km by Road, 16 hrs by train ,125 minutes by flight ,It's only a second away from heart. And I would do anything to make this work if it even means for me to come to Bombay daily to see you(arrey please isse seriously mat lena:P ). But we can meet each other every month atleast.

After all these lovey-dovey things now comes the hard part And please do whatever comes to your mind In the first glance. Please don't get intimidated by the fact that I have made this website(It's just to make you smile) therefore its necessary for me to get a positive answer . Call the same day before the clock strikes 12 with the answer. I will wait ..... If it's a NO then you don't have to give any reason only two syllables are enough for me to understand . The either way it would be acceptable. It's better to have loved and lost then to ever have love at all. No matter what your answer is, I promise that will not effect our relationship that we have till *date . You are my great friend whom I like to always talk before I hit my bed and the friend I know will always stand beside me in any situation .

I will be always there for you.*

KEEP SMILING ;

REGARDS

RAHUL YADAV
